

Join Us as an AOTF Sponsor at the 2018 AOTA Annual Conference & Expo

The American Occupational Therapy Foundation advances the science of occupational therapy to support people's full participation in meaningful life activities regardless of age, ability or condition. For over 50 years the AOTF has aided the people and the science that builds knowledge to strengthen the evidenced-based practice and enabled research that improves health and wellbeing.

The Foundation, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, has awarded over $1 million in research grants, administers the professions largest library and bibliographic database, awards more than 50 scholarships and fellowships annually, oversees Pi Theta Epsilon, the national OT honor society, and publishes a peer-reviewed research journal, OTJR: Occupation, Participation and Health.

Each year, over 50,000 practitioners, educators, researchers, students and AOTA members are touched by and engage with AOTF. Now you can too! As a Founder, Benefactor, Patron, or Vanguard sponsor you will be invited to attend the AOTF VIP Reception on Thursday, April 19, 2018 from 7:00-9:00pm.

Please join us as a sponsor because in life, doing matters!

2018 AOTF Sponsorship Opportunities are:

Breakfast with a Scholar, Friday, April 20, 2018, 7:00-9:00am

Something's Wrong With Me: How Shifting Language of Disability Shape Selfhood
Wake up with a memorable morning meal as author Molly McCully Brown provides an examination of how the ways in which we talk about and around disability influence the development of self-conception. Ms. Brown is the author of The Virginia State Colony for Epileptics and Feeble-minded, winner of the 2016 Lexi Rudnitsky First Book Prize. Her poems and essays have appeared or are forthcoming in Gulf Coast, Crazyhorse, Ninth Letter, Pleiades, Colorado Review, and The New York Times. She is the inaugural Jeff Baskin Writers Fellow at The Oxford American magazine.

State of the Science Symposium, Friday April 20, 2018, 2:00-4:30pm

"Functional Cognition: The OT Lens on Occupational Performance"

This year's AOTF State of the Science Symposium features five leaders in OT who will discuss current knowledge and evidence on functional cognition; the ability to use and integrate thinking and processing skills to accomplish complex and essential IADLs. Functional cognitive problems are associated with many disease processes, e.g. stroke, Alzheimer's disease, Parkinson's disease, MS, cancer, and diabetes.
